

MARBRAV FERGUSON NOT GUILTY

Nortonville Man Charged
With Dynamiting Negro
Cabin at That Place
Exonerated

The case of the commonwealth against Marbray Ferguson, charged dynamiting a negro cabin near Nortonville, Ky., which resulted in the death of two negroes, went to the jury this afternoon and in fifteen minutes a verdict of not guilty was returned.

Ferguson immediately left for his home in Nortonville. He took the stand today and denied any knowledge whatever of having stated that some negroes would be "blown to hell." He confessed to having been beastly drunk earlier in the night of the explosion. His son stated that he took his father home from Nortonville about 11 o'clock on this night and that his father was so intoxicated that he had to be partially carried the entire distance.

This story was corroborated by N. J. Wilburn, who assisted the son in carrying the father home. Ferguson's daughter stated she slept in the same room with her father and was awake at the time of the explosion and that her father, sound sleep in an adjoining bed, was not awakened by the explosion.

Ferguson while on the stand told a straightforward story and was not confused in any of the questions submitted in the cross examination. The case against N. J. Wilburn, who was indicted on the same charge but tried separately was dismissed with leave to submit to the grand jury at any time.

Wilburn, under arrest some time after the dynamiting, was in the custody of a deputy sheriff, struck the marshal at Nortonville claiming that the marshal had several times taunted him for this offense. Wilburn was charged with assault and battery and was fined $50 in court today. He pleaded guilty to the charge.

New Milliner For Brown Brothers

Mrs. Sisk will also sew when the season is not rushed and will be glad to welcome her friends on her return from market.

CALOMEL SALIVATES AND MAKES YOU SICK

Acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver and you lose a day's work

There is no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when 50c buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for calomel.

It is a pleasant, vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and can not salivate.

Children and grown folks can take Dodson's Liver Tone, because it is perfectly harmless.

Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than horrible calomel your money is waiting for you.

One Way of Getting Even

A painful scene was being staged, with Johnny, his father and a slipper in the principal roles. Father gave voice to the ancient platitude, "This hurts me, Johnny, far more than it does you," he said.

Johnny gritted his teeth. "Then," he wailed, "keep it up. I can stand it."

A Distinctive Reason

What is the chief reason for the superiority of Royal Baking Powder?

There are several good reasons, but there is one which distinguishes Royal from other baking powders.

This reason, which every woman should know is that Royal Baking Powder is made from cream of tartar, which comes from grapes. This means a healthful fruit origin. It means natural food as distinguished from mineral substitutes used in other baking powders.

There is no alum nor phosphate in Royal Baking Powder.

Resolutions of Respect

At a call meeting of the E. W. Turner Lodge No. 548, F. & A. M., held in their hall in Earlington, Ky., Feb. 17, 1916, the following resolutions were read and adopted.

Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God in his inscrutable wisdom, to call by death our beloved brother Owen N. Sisk from labor on earth to that rest which remains to the children of God, therefore be it,

Resolved, That we bow in humble submission to the will of Him who is too wise to err and too good to do wrong. Recognizing this affliction as a warning that we to must soon be gathered into that unknown land of shadows:

Resolved, that in the death of our brother the craft sustains the loss of a valued member, his family a kind indulgent husband and father and the community that of a quiet exemplary citizen.

Resolved, That we tender our heartfelt sympathy to the stricken family in this sad hour of bereavement and affliction and for solace can only point them to him who hears the young ravens cry and notes the sparrows fall.

Resolved, That the lodge room be draped in mourning and the members wear the customary badge of sorrow for the next 30 days.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of our deceased brother and a copy filed in the archives of the order and a copy furnished to the Earlington Bee for publication.

Lloyd George Speaks on British Preparedness

"The Secolo" of Milan quotes Lloyd George as saying: "We have now 2,500 factories employing 1,500,000 men and 250,000 women. By spring we shall have turned out an immense amount of munitions. We shall have for the first time in the war more than the enemy. We have some 3,000,000 men under arms; by spring we shall have 1,000,000 more. Germany's economic and financial conditions are getting worse every day. The army will be the last to feel distress in Germany but it will feel it."

BIG FOUR MINES SUSPEND WORK

Injunction Suit is Dismissed—Workman Still Fear Attack from Pike County

Boonville, Feb. 23 Work has been suspended at the Big Four mines for several days, until the trouble which has been brewing can be straightened out. The Big Four miners became restless today after several long distance calls had been received by Ed Thurber and others warning them that miners from the Hartwe 1 district were on their way to Boonville.

Several calls were made which are thought to have been made by Boonville parties. The injunction proceedings which were filed in court Tuesday evening by Nat Daniels and others against Fred Helms and others were withdrawn this afternoon by the plaintiffs.

Hartwell Miners Investigated

The miners from the Hartwell district were sent here several days ago to investigate this trouble and it is said before they left, that several threats were made. No trouble occurred to day. The miners are prepared in case the threats are carried out to resist with firearms but they hope trouble will be averted. All the officials including President White and State President Stewart and the board members with the exception of one are with the local men.

About 18 years ago, when the mines were just opened in Boonville, 500 miners from the district north of here came to Boonville and took the men out of the mines and handcuffed them and marched them to the fairgrounds where they beat them unmercifully, because they were not members of the union. Threats were made at that time but little heed was taken, and they were taken unawares.

Predicts Great Prosperity

Levy Mayer Thinks Financial Suicide Alone Can Prevent Unparalleled Good Times

Chicago.—Levy Mayer says: "After close observation during the rendition of professional services while in New York for several weeks, I believe that we are entering upon the most prosperous business period that this country has ever experienced. Unless we recklessly or deliberately commit financial suicide, the scope and period of our prosperity will be unparalleled. But unfettered American financial wildness and political legislative shortsightedness and folly may spoil all these grand prospects."

VILLAGE SCHOOL AND HOMES CONNECTED BY TUNNELS

At Tyee, a small railroad point in northwestern Washington which is usually almost buried during the winter, snowsheds connect a small frame school building with the few houses in which there are children of school age," says the March Popular Mechanics Magazine, in an illustrated article. "Through these wooden tunnels the children make their way to and from school in comfort, while blizzards sweep across the snow banks above them. The sheds are made necessary by the character of the hilly village which has no street other than a railroad right of way. When snow is drifted so that it is from 20 to 30 feet deep in many places, and big rotary snowplows have cleared the railway, leaving high embankments of snow on either side, track walking is dangerous and all communication difficult. Because of this the citizens have constructed the snowsheds through which the children, nine in number, pass. These tunnels beneath the snow also provide the people a ready means of access from one house to another when they are snowbound."

M. E. Church, South, Notes

All services were well attended and splendid interest was manifested throughout the day last Sunday.

Grandma Arnold was the honor pupil last Sunday.

The preaching services were enthusiastic and the messages helpful.

The morning congregations are growing steadily. The pastor has announced a series of Sermons for March at each evening service during the month of March, the pastor will deliver a sermon to the young people the subject will be announced later.

Do You Find Fault With Everybody?

LITTLE MARY HURTING JNO BARLEYBORN'S TRADE

Little Mary Picford and her clan seem to be winning over John Barleycorn.

In the course of some remarks on "Social Aspects of the Drink Problem," Dr. Tyson, of the University of Pittsburgh, declared that the movie is winning men by the thousand from the saloon. The man who formerly rushed off to the saloon after his evening meal now takes his wife and babies to the nickel shows, according to Dr. Tyson.

Certainly Oliver Cromwell himself if he came to life, would not contend that the picture show is not better than the saloon. Prohibitionists are peculiarly interested in the sensible censorship of the movies. Censorship prompted by prejudice, provincialism or narrowness will cripple the saloon's greatest opponent. Upon the other hand, if indecency or impropriety are to be permitted, the picture show is doomed.

How Mr. Davis Got Rid of a Bad Cold

"Some time ago I had a very bad cold," writes Lewis T. Davis, Blackwater, Del. "My brother McCabe Davis gave me a small bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. After taking this I bought half a dozen bottles, but only used one of them, as the cough left me and I have not been troubled since." Obtainable everywhere.

OLD FOLKS FIND A CHEERY FRIEND

A Boon to Those Who Have Started Down the Hill of Life

So many of us have been seeking some really efficient remedy to give to our old folks who are treading in the long shadows of life. That remedy must contain the proper tonic qualities to revitalize sluggish organs and the blood.

That something has been found. It is Tanlac.

It is cowardly to let debility sap away the life and comforts when it can be stayed. A condition of debility never wears itself out. Instead, it gradually grows more pronounced unless proper measures to check it are taken. It gathers force and nourishes itself upon the tissues of the body. To build up those tissues is to fight debility.

Characteristic conditions of debility both in old and young are nervousness, headaches, backaches, depression of spirits, loss of appetite, sleeplessness and a general good-for-nothing feeling that comes from lack of energy.

Tanlac is designed to combat these conditions in many ways. It is a splendid tonic and tissue builder with just the right amount of proteids. It quiets nerves and brings back restful sleep, which is nature's first aid to the debilitated. It corrects stomach troubles—and there, in many cases out of ten, you have the seat of a nervous, debilitating ailment.

With the body recharged with vigor, that detested, despondent feeling passes away so quickly you are astonished and might regretful that you didn't start out to fight it long before.

Tanlac may now be obtained in Earlinton and St. Charles at George King & Sons, in Mortons Gap at Ben T. Robinson and ordible at The City Drug Store, where its great popularity is being better shown every day.

"Bringing Up Father"

Quality rather than quantity is the dominating keynote in the latest Gus Hill attraction "Bringing Up Father," a 20th century play, which is underlined to entertain the patrons of Temple Theatre on Tuesday, Feb. 29th. It is not a hodge podge of old tried and true situations, time worn complications, familiar dialogue, discarded scenery, etc., but a real offering interpreted by real artists, and written by two clever newspaper men who are familiar with the vagaries of human nature. It requires three acts in which to tell a story unique and original in every detail, and with interest sustained with spirited action the rule from beginning to end. In the cast are (35) capable people, who also contribute individual specialties, being introduced. The play is based on the popular cartoons by George McManus, the artist, whose fame extends from Coast to Coast.
